'The need is enormous'

Home Society fills vital need

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Since it started as an adoption and foster care agency in 1883, the Children's Home & Aid Society of Illinois has continually expanded to meet a variety of needs throughout the Metro East.

A United Way Agency, it provides counseling, resources and other programs dedicated to helping children. It serves more than 18,000 children in Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington counties.

"The need is enormous," said CHASI worker Dorothy Aitken. "We could be five times larger if funding were available."

The agency has offices in Alton,

Belleville, East St. Louis and Granite City.

It provides adoption and foster care services, pregnancy and early parenting counseling, child abuse prevention programs, child care resource and referral services, and oversees a subsidized child care program.

1 guilty, 1 innocent in federal drug trial

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A federal jury returned a split verdict Thursday evening in the drug trial of two Granite City men.

Gerald E. Whitmer, of the 2900 block of Madison Avenue, was found innocent of all charges. Co-defendant Doug Turnbough, of the 2700 block of Buxton Avenue, was convicted on all five counts.

Both Turnbough and Whitmer were charged with conspiracy to distribute marijuana, possession of more than 100 kilograms of marijuana with intent to distribute it, and possession with intent to distribute in a school zone.

Turnbough was also charged with possession of a firearm during a drug trafficking crime and possession of a firearm with no registration or serial number.

A third defendant, Kathy Jo Stull, also of the 2700 block of Buxton Avenue, faces drug possession charges as well. She will be tried separately.

Commodity program to end

By Doris Hanrahan
and Scott Cousins
Staff writers

Needy families in the area will soon have one less option in their struggle for survival.

Local township officials have been notified that the last mass distribution of federal food commodities under the Emergency Food Assistance Program will take place in May.

The termination of the program, effective July 1, is the result of the federal government's decision to cut back on welfare programs, according to memos sent to the townships by John D. Quigley, Madison County Emergency Management Agency director.

Quigley said the program's demise is the result of an almost 60 percent reduction in the amount of commodities received by the state from the federal government.

"We're stopping free commodities to people that are hungry," Quigley said. "It just goes against the grain. You wonder why we always cut out the welfare programs to try to meet our budgets."

They're always the first things targeted." The decision will affect 20 area distribution centers, one in each township in Madison County.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture purchased the food and sent it to the Illinois Department of Public Aid for distribution, originally once a month. In recent years the program had dwindled to every other month.

In the program's first years, cheese was the main commodity at the monthly divvies. Later on, butter, honey, rice and other staples were added. Cheese was eventually taken off the list.

The food divvies were canceled this January, but townships received the regular March allotments.

In Granite City Township, the commodity program is run through the Salvation Army.

Maxine Rutter, a Salvation Army case worker, said the agency normally gives commodities to about 250 families per month.

"It's a sad thing, but there is not a whole lot we can do about it," she said. Chouteau Township Supervisor Pat Polley said the township has been distribut-

Greene returns to roots

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

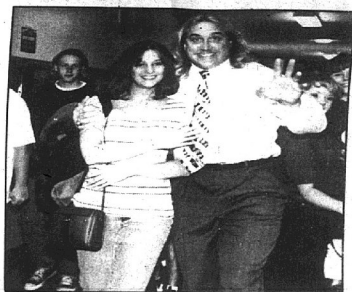

It was a long road from Granite City South High School to the National Football League. But Kevin Greene bridged that gap during a talk with the senior class at GCHS on Friday.

Greene, a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers and a two-time NFL All-Pro, was at GCHS on Friday to address about 600 seniors Friday morning. One of the most dominating — and most popular — players in the NFL, Greene talked about his Granite City roots in the GCHS auditorium and shared some of his experiences with students who are about to embark on life after high school.

"I've been fighting for seven years to come back here and speak to the seniors," said Greene, 32. "I've spoken at a couple awards banquets, but this was a chance to talk right to the kids."

Greene, a 1980 graduate of Granite City South, played football with the Warriors but

Warriors have full week ahead

After playing three games in four days, the Granite City Warriors will have another full week of action ahead of them when they visit Alton in a Southwestern Conference game Tuesday.

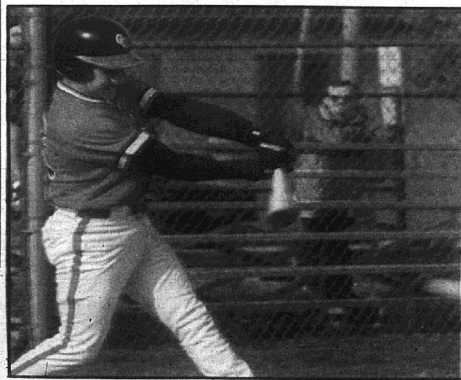

The Warriors, who stand at 4-1 in the SWC, defeated Belleville East 2-0 on Tuesday but fell 7-3 to Althoff on Wednesday. Granite City got back-to-back home runs from Scott Nemeth and Keith Simon in the sixth to trim Althoff's lead to 3-2, but fell victim to a four-run sixth inning by the Crusaders. The Warriors added an unearned run in the seventh to complete the scoring.

Granite City, scheduled to play Centralia in a doubleheader Saturday, will play Alton on Tuesday and then visit Francis Howell North on Wednesday.

The Warriors will finish the week Thursday with another SWC game at Belleville West.

For coverage of Friday's game against Edwardsville, see page 2B.

Comments may incite others, Riley cautions

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

U.S. District Judge Paul E. Riley said Americans can say and do almost anything, but we should not let our angry comments incite others to do violence like the Oklahoma bombing.

Riley, former Madison County public defender, made the comment as guest speaker for the Law Day dinner sponsored Friday at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville by the St. Clair County Bar Association.

"The Oklahoma incident was the most horrible disaster in the U.S. in my lifetime," Riley said. "What we're saying is creating a sense of fear that's causing those who do not possess the requisite mental ability to do things that's so destructive, that hurts innocent people."

He urged attorneys, who he said he considered some of the best trained thinkers in the country, to narrow the scope of their comments so others won't "act dangerously or irresponsibly."

Talk show hosts also enrage extremists and feel comfortable sharing the ingredients of bombs on the airwaves, Riley said. They often dehumanize other citizens so that concerns for their families and freedoms are no longer important.

"We're facing a simple, but serious problem," he said. "This atrocity should never happen again."

The bar association also recognized the legislative contributions of the late Sen. Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis, by posthumously honoring him with the organization's coveted Liberty Bell Award.

The plaque was accepted by Kenneth Hall Jr. on behalf of the Hall family.

St. Clair County Regional Superintendent Martha O'Malley said Hall lived his life with such honor, morality and dignity that he exemplified the Liberty Bell Award.

"His life shines as a beacon and a model of what can be accomplished in a very imperfect world," she said. "His loyalty is legend and his word was bond. When he looked at a person, he saw no color. He would look into the eyes and hearts of each person and deal with that."

two terms and nearly 25 years in the Senate. He was the first black assistant majority leader who "loved the 57th District," O'Malley said.

Property owner to appeal

Charles Stavelly, whose request for a special use permit to allow manufacturing on his residential property near Mitchell was denied by the Madison County Board, said Monday he plans to file a court challenge to the decision.

The county board voted 17-7 against the request, despite the support of local board member Tim Knott.

Stavelly, who lives in the 5400 block of Old Alton Road, had originally requested the property be rezoned to manufacturing with a special use permit for his residence, but changed his request to a special use permit for the manufacturing.

That request had been approved by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, but was opposed by some neighbors, who brought the matter to the county's land use committee.

It was Land Use Committee Chairman Jack Frandsen, D-Alhambra, who brought up the matter with the full county board at last Wednesday's meeting.

Stavelly said he was planning to meet with his attorney, but declined further comment.

Prosecution ends case against doctor

EAST ST. LOUIS — Federal prosecutors have wrapped up their case against an Alton physician accused of fraud, and the case is expected to come to a close next month.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Joel Merkel, a spokesman for the office, said the prosecution had rested its case against Dr. Thomas Bruce Vest, the owner of the Doctors Clinic in Alton, who is accused of mail fraud and fraudulent billing.

"As far as I know we've rested and the defense is in the process of putting on its witnesses," Merkel said. "There was a death in the family of one of the defense attorneys and the case rested for a week. We may be a little behind schedule."

Vest has been on trial since January and officials said they expect the case to wrap up in May.

"It's been a lengthy case," Merkel said. "A lot of work is involved, and it has really been a strain on the office. We have two attorneys on the case and a secretary assigned full-time to the case. It spills over to everyone in the office."

Vest is accused of fraudulently billing Medicare and private insurance companies for false medical claims and unnecessary tests. Prosecutors called dozens of former patients to the witness stand who relayed similar experiences in the clinic, including inaccurate recording of medical symptoms.

Several patients said they were charged several hundred dollars for tests they believed were unnecessary.

Vest's attorney, Stephen Gilmore, has said Vest's clinic, at 3324 Alby St. near Alton Square, operated within the law and tests were performed in accordance with standard medical practices.

City moves on new TIF district

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The Granite City Council has approved notifying other taxing districts that it plans to create a Tax Incremental Financing District to aid in the development of the new galvanizing line at Granite City Steel.

The approval, one of the very early steps in creating the TIF district, was given at Tuesday's council meeting.

The TIF would be the city's third, and was used as an incentive to bring the new line to town.

The $67 million project will provide about 150 jobs for craftsmen and laborers during construction, create about 40 new full-time permanent jobs, and ensure the security of about 300 existing jobs.

Francis Krantz, Granite City's director of economic development, said the new line has the potential to increase the economic viability of the division for the next generation.

The other TIF districts are the downtown redevelopment, and one with American Steel.

Krantz said the new TIF would only include property housing the new coating line. Including warehousing and shipping space, that will be about three acres.

Competition for the new line was stiff, according to Krantz. When National Steel announced it was looking for a plant site, Granite City did not appear to have much chance.

"We used the financial incentive as an inducement to bring it here, and it appears to have worked," he said.

He said the decision to locate the line here was a testimonial to the city, its residents and all the others who worked on the project.

The next step in creating the TIF will occur in May, when the council considers a resolution to establish a public hearing. A redevelopment plan will also be submitted in the next few months.

In a TIF district, the amount of property taxes received by local governments is frozen, and any increase in taxes caused by an increase in the value of the property goes to a special fund that can only be used to make improvements in the district. A TIF district can last only about 20 years.

Gerald Lackey of Granite City, a coin phone technician with Ameritech, places a new card in the pay phone in the lobby of UMB 1st National Bank in Collinsville to inform customers that local calls now cost 35 cents instead of 25 cents.

An extra dime Calls from pay telephones rise from 25 to 35 cents

Making a call from a pay telephone now requires more change. As part of a series of pricing adjustments being made by Ameritech, local calls from pay phones have risen by a dime — to 35 cents from 25 cents.

Charges of 50 cents and 80 cents per minute will also apply depending on distance.

All of the new rates took place April 18.

"Our pay phone services are a great value and they'll get even better," said Doug Whitley, president of Ameritech Illinois. "We plan to turn the pay phone into an information station where callers can do more than just talk."

Pay phone calls placed with a calling card aren't exempt from the increases, and effective May 22, directory assistance calls placed from pay phones will cost 35 cents.

Whitley said the pay phone changes are due to the increased cost of doing business.

Businesses are also seeing rate increases for the first time in eight years.

Ameritech's new rates for business calls outside the local calling area that go beyond 15 miles are now 12 cents for the first minute and 8.5 cents for each additional minute.

But while phone charges are going up for those calls made away from home, calls at home are getting less expensive, company officials say.

Ameritech is increasing its "automatic volume discounts" which vary based on a customer's monthly Ameritech charges.

The discount increase, effective July 1, is expected to result in a $12 million reduction in consumer rates.

The company also is restructuring its consumer prices for popular features like Caller ID, Three-Way Calling and Automatic Callback by reducing some prices and providing new discounts when a consumer has more than one of these features.

For example, a consumer with Call Waiting, which costs $2.50 per month, will be able to add Automatic Callback for only $2 a month, a savings of $1.50 over current prices.

Teachers may get help

SPRINGFIELD — The health insurance program for Downstate teachers would be bailed out by a mix of state dollars and increased pension contributions from working teachers under a bill passed Wednesday by the House.

The bill would help pay for insurance for the more than 32,000 retired teachers Downstate. The insurance fund is expected to run out of money June 30.

Under the bill, working teachers would pay an extra 0.5 percent in pension taxes. That would be matched by the state to generate a combined $44 million in 1996.

Retiree insurance premiums also would increase by 8 percent annually for three years. At the end of the three years, the program would be reviewed.

Most retirees would have to enroll in a health maintenance organization or pay 50 percent of their premiums. Supporters said they hope savings from managed care would make up for the remaining $16 million in estimated expenses.

The House approved the plan 75-35. Ron Stephens, R-Troy, voted for the plan, while Jay Hoffman, D-Collinsville, voted against it. Steve Davis, D-Bethalto, voted present.

Many Democrats opposed the plan, calling it a tax on teachers without a guaranteed source of funding. Republicans said the plan is responsible and affordable, and vowed to use this vote as a future campaign issue.

"Don't tell us if we vote or not present that we don't care about retired teachers," Hoffman shouted. "This bill is an absolute sham."

Pontoon trustees to inspect trailer site

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Despite objections from the mayor, a trustee and much of the crowd, Pontoon Beach trustees voted to meet next Tuesday at Gateway Stables to look over the site, which is the subject of an upcoming court case.

The legal battle is at 6 p.m. at the stables, 3514 Lake Drive. The legal battle is over a mobile home owned by Kelso "Kelly" Arnold at the stables. The trial date had been scheduled for early April, but had been delayed until May.

The village filed suit in September seeking to remove the trailer, which was put into place in July — before the owner received the proper permits.

The board approved meeting after a sometimes heated debate over the case.

Trustee Mike Macek said the board needed to find a "happy medium" between Arnold and opponents of the mobile home.

Trustee Bob Vincent argued that the board should not discuss the matter until Arnold removes the trailer and goes through the proper permit procedure.

There was also arguing between the crowd and village officials. At one point, Mayor Glen Wilson said their would be no more discussion because the matter was pending litigation. However, debate between Macek, Vincent, Wilson and audience members continued for some time.

In the middle of the debate, Macek made a motion to meet at the site. After some time, Trustee Randy Presswood seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote, with Vincent the only audible objector.

"That's an ongoing thing for the last seven months," he said. "We've had two hearings on it, and now part of the board wants to put the trailer in there, and it's illegal."

In other business, the board tabled several items, including: A request for a zoning variance by William and Avalon Radford of 16 Westgate Drive. The Radfords have requested a variance to build a garage onto a utility easement on their property. The request has been approved by the village's zoning board, but the matter was (See PONTON, Page 7A)

Swiss Scientists Discover Amazing New Energy Product

Lugano, Switzerland—After 25 years of research Active-8 was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories under the guidance of Professor C.A. Meyer. After extensive testing with amazing results, Active-8 is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Active-8's results on improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Active-8 was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astonishing. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

The new discovery has been a wind-fall for working and active people that seem to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift to get them through the day. Active-8 when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a beautiful stated, "I used to go home exhausted after being on my feet all day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more." Active-8 is a necessary boost for students, professionals and Senior citizens.

My view

There's no denying the signs of aging

My wife and I have been married for nearly 30 years. Our children are grown and both have left the nest. Suddenly, my wife and I are at that awkward age: We need a much smaller house with a much larger medicine cabinet.

This explosion in prescriptions and medical supplies has occurred in just the past year or so. It started when my wife began medication for high blood pressure. Then last June I flunked my annual physical and suddenly found myself in Christian Northeast Hospital for quadruple-bypass surgery. Since that time, we seem to be picking up a new prescription or medication every week or 10 days. I suspect that many of the medications we are taking are to relieve symptoms caused by the medications we are taking, an endless cycle created by the drug companies to ensure their perpetual profitability.

This constantly increasing need for prescription drugs is just a sign we are getting older. The only good thing that can be said about aging is that it is better than the only other option. But the strange little things that keep happening to our minds and bodies as we age are a pain:

in the you-know-what. Here's a little test you can take in the privacy of your own home. You know you are getting old when:

- You think about the hereafter a lot. For example, you stop what you are doing to walk into another room and then pause, trying to remember what you are here after.
- You turn the lights down low when you are alone with your spouse because you are thinking about the electric bill instead of romance.
- The only time you get a gleam in your eye is when the light hits your bifocals.
- You start watching June Allyson commercials.
- Most of the names in your address book end in "M.D."

• Your mind wants to do things your body doesn't.

• You check the obituaries in the morning paper to see if you are in them.

• Everything that works, hurts; anything that doesn't hurt, doesn't work.

• The little gray-haired old lady you help across the street is your wife.

• Your back goes out more often than you do.

• If you feel like exercising, you lie down until the urge leaves you.

• You get up in the morning and hope for a dull day.

Of course, I've written these hints from hearsay. None of them actually apply to me.

Concealed guns would help

TO THE EDITOR:

As director of the Illinois State Police, my main concern is to maintain the safest possible living conditions for the people of Illinois. I feel strongly that permitting citizens to carry concealed firearms would not contribute to a safer society. In recent efforts in the General Assembly to pass "permit to carry" measures, many hours of lip service have been paid to such topics as personal rights, the Constitution, preemption laws, and other peripheral issues.

To me, it all boils down to public safety and the equation is simple: More guns means more deaths.

Throughout my career in law enforcement, I have been required by state law and sound policy to undergo hundreds of hours of training in the use of firearms. This requirement applies to all Illinois police officers.

For their unique responsibility to serve and protect, and for their qualifications in assessing life-threatening situations, they are permitted to carry a firearm.

Compare this scenario now to a portion of the public who is moved to carry a gun, not out of responsibility, but out of fear; citizens who may have learned to load, aim and fire a weapon, but were never trained to make instantaneous life or death decisions.

At the Illinois State Police, our overriding concerns are public safety, domestic tranquility and saving lives.

Rage, sadness and disbelief

Local therapist helps Oklahoma City residents cope

Reading about the Oklahoma City bombing, or seeing it on television, is bad enough. Being there in person is worse.

Mark Rund, an Alton counselor and therapist who went to Oklahoma City as part of a counseling team, won't forget what he saw, heard and felt during his four-day stay.

"It's so upsetting, so overwhelming, and there's so much disbelief in the midst of it," he said after returning home late Monday.

"It's affecting the entire community emotionally, and there is such sadness."

There is also rage.

"There is incredible anger. People are not only shocked and angry, but there's a sense of deep tragedy that this was caused in Oklahoma by people from the United States. It's like, 'We've been betrayed by our own people.'"

The closer to the site of the tragedy, the higher the stress level, he said.

"One lady, a survivor who got out of the building, said there was just so much blood; there was blood everywhere."

"When they're going through that building and picking up arms and hands and feet and torsos..." Rund's voice trailed off.

"The first time I slept, was when I got on the plane to come home," he said. "When you do something like this, you're running on adrenaline for as long as you're there."

But having people like Rund there to help is crucial.

"When you have a disaster, you need people with skills like mine," he said.

Rund and New Orleans psychologist Janie Beers went to the crisis site for Occupational Health Services, a private agency that provides crisis counseling for federal employees and their families.

They did direct counseling and also set up a debriefing program for mental health specialists to follow.

During debriefing, people affected by the tragedy unload some of their emotional trauma.

"It's really important to unload that intrapsychic overload," Rund said.

"Debriefing is like dealing with an abscess — relieving the poison."

Not only survivors of the blast but others involved need debriefing, Rund said.

"If you're going into that building as a helper, particularly during the acute phase right after the bombing, you've sustained a major impact, and if you're not debriefed, you'll be a sick cookie," he said.

Unrelieved stress resulting from a traumatic experience can cause post-traumatic stress response.

"That's what anybody had, including me, who saw dead bodies coming out. There might be disbelief, there might be rage, there might be helplessness."

Such feelings, kept locked inside, can lead to post-traumatic stress syndrome, first identified in Vietnam War veterans.

"These guys were coming back from Vietnam and people were saying, 'What's wrong with those people?' You have to discharge those feelings," Rund said.

In debriefing sessions, people talk about what happened and discuss their thoughts, feelings and reactions. Such sessions can help therapists spot lingering problems such as sleep difficulty, exaggerated startle response, panic attack, increased irritability and conflict in personal relationships and appetite loss.

"You can determine what of those reactions are not going away," Rund said.

Being in Oklahoma City was traumatic even for a therapist, Rund said, but also therapeutic.

"I got the call even before I heard the news. The teams are already identified, and they call to see if you're available. I was close to the region."

Rund's first response, like that of most Americans, was rage.

"This gave me something I could do about this helplessness. It's so unthinkable that someone could do this intentionally, and this gave me a way of impacting on that," he said.

Most folks will not have the chance Rund had to help on the scene, but there are other ways to contribute.

"Giving blood and clothing is not what the people there need now, but funeral funds? You bet," Rund said.

"And these families are going to need psychological help. There will be expenses to that."

The people of Oklahoma City need to know justice will be served, he said. They also need to know that after the commotion dies down, they will remain in the minds and hearts of their fellow Americans.

"They need to know the world isn't forgetting them," Rund said. "I would regularly tell them, 'We won't forget.'"

Magna Club members to take cruise

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nameoki Township area for the Press-Record Journal. She can be contacted at 931-4256.

The Christian Adult Group met at Shoney's Restaurant on Nameoki Road April 19 for its regular meeting and supper. Earl Spalding gave some of his famous readings and led in prayer for the sick. A special prayer for C. D. Smith, a fellow member who is in the hospital, was given.

Zane Miller's birthday was celebrated. Shoney's served a small cake and everyone singing "Happy Birthday" to him. He received a gift from the members and a birthday card.

The meeting was dismissed by everyone saying the Lord's Prayer in unison. The next meeting will be held at 6 p.m. May 16 at Shoney's.

Attending the April meeting were Cleo Slusher, Earl and Gertrude Spalding, Birdie Mayenburg, Ella Pierce, Al Dillman, Olive Joyner, Bill Gass, Velma Price, Margaret Chadwick, Madge and Al Laney, Zane Miller, Hilda McManis, Mary Mize, Orlene Hickam, Marie Benson, Verna Andrews, Mabel Lowell, Doris Masters, Ruby Arnett, Dorothy Teller, Evelyn Miles and Vera Kirkpatrick.

The annual General Steel brunch will be held from 9 a.m. to noon May 6 in the Granite City Senior Citizen Hall on Delmar Avenue. This reunion is for former employees and their families.

May 1 is the deadline for reservations for the Magna Club 55 cruise down the Mississippi.

First, the group will board a paddlewheel for the 11 a.m. hot lunch buffet. Then it's over to the Admiral to try your luck. Boarding time is 9 to 10:15 a.m. The group will disembark for home at 3 p.m.

The date is Tuesday, May 23, and Wednesday, May 24. The cost is $15 per person, which includes admission, buffet and transportation. Contact Club Magna 55 for more information.

The Tuesday Home League Ladies met in the Salvation Army Hall and held a "doll extravaganza." Each woman brought a doll from home to display. Some dolls told a story on how they were acquired; some had been kept in the family for ages. One doll represented a slave days. One had been in the family for 20 years, and two ceramic dolls represented the song "Angels Over Me." Before lunch, there was a fund raiser and a few dolls were sold.

Barbara Miller gave a prayer for all the sick, along with urgent silent requests and asked the blessing for the food.

Lunch was served to Henrietta

Elks

west is the Elks' fall soccer tournament. Randy Witter serves as the Elks' youth athletic chairman and is the director of the tournament.

The first tournament, with 42 boys and girls teams, was held at a junior high school field in one weekend. Now, the tournament runs for one week and last year involved 22 teams, 3,000 players and participants from New Jersey, Wisconsin, Oklahoma and other states.

The Elks have entered as many as 18 teams in the tournament.

"At Belleville Area College, we were able to install nine fields for the 1989 tournament for the 120 teams that competed," Witter said. "Since that time, we have expanded to several different sites to accommodate the growing number of teams."

The Elks' programs have been a winner both on and off the field. Because of the Elks' athletics and the success of the tournament, the organization is able to support local participation in soccer, baseball, wrestling, basketball, the local and state drug awareness programs and provides more than $2,500 in scholarship funds to local institutions.

Robertson, who received a law degree from St. Louis University in 1947, joined the firm of Lueders and Robertson in 1948. He served as assistant attorney general of Illinois from 1953-60. He was also the Tri-City Regional Port District attorney for 33 years, and he was appointed to the Illinois Board of Ethics and served in 1977-78.

Robertson has served as master of ceremonies for almost every major banquet in Granite City. On May 12, he will present the awards to the Hall of Fame's individual inductees for the ninth straight year.

As a member of the Granite City High School track team, Robertson earned four letters, served as a team captain in 1938 and was a top sprinter who ran the 100, 200 and 400-yard dashes. He also won three letters as a halfback in football.

In addition, there will be an invitational golf and baseball tournament, plus Hoops Festival, Soccer Fest and 7-on-7 football tournaments.

SIUE will be the site for many of the venues, while Belleville Area College also will host several sports.

In addition to the Finals competition, regional festivals will be held throughout the state for a wide variety of sports and age and ability levels. Anyone wishing to organize a regional festival should contact Bob Emig at 632-1002 or 344-0984. For more information about the PSG, contact Emig.

Shootout

blasted a shot just wide of the Lady Warriors' net.

"Duchenne is a good team with very aggressive athletes and they are very well coached," GCHS coach Gene Baker said. "To beat them is no easy task."

The second half was much of the same. Rector had another strong scoring chance on a give-and-go from Stephanie Brennan, but Granite City goalie Marcie Holsinger made the save.

"We created opportunities, but our inability to finish them off causes us to lose close games," Toigo said. "But I have no gripe because the girls work hard."

The Lady Pioneers' lack of a finisher opened the door for the Lady Warriors, who were also missing some of their scoring punch because of injuries.

"We're missing our two top scorers but we are trying to find our game with some younger girls," Baker said. "I feel like we had the better of the play. We had more possession and better penetration."

The Lady Warriors maintained the pressure before scoring in the final 10 minutes. Kara Gauen made a perfect pass across the penalty box and Simpson tapped the cross past Phillips for the lone goal of the game.

"We felt good to get a win," Baker said. "Our objective was to come out of this tournament a better team and we're getting there."

GCHS rebounded from a 3-0 loss to Incarnate Word in the opening round Monday with two straight wins against St. Joseph's and Duchesne. The Lady Warriors improved to 9-2 overall with Thursday's win, while Duchesne dropped to 8-9-1.

Dougherty held the Warriors to just three hits. He had five strikeouts, no walks and he hit one batter — Simon in the fifth inning.

"Dougherty was all-world tonight," Pile said. "Jimmy was just outstanding. The team did a great job. Tieman also did a great job for them. We did some things to get to him. I thought four of our guys could hit Tieman and three of them did hit him."

Lignoul thought his team was going to break out in the second inning after the back-to-back hits put runners on second and third. But after the team managed only one run, he said following the game that some changes would be made.

"Offense for us... We haven't been hitting the ball the last couple of weeks," he said. "Dougherty wasn't overpowering. He just consistently throws a lot of strikes. The thing is we're playing seven seniors and we're 12-9. It's time to make some changes. I will make a minimum of changes for our next game."

Priest removed from his post

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

A Mount Vernon priest has been removed from his post and placed on administrative leave after an allegation of sexual misconduct was reported to Bishop Wilton Gregory.

Gregory announced Tuesday that the Rev. Gary Sebesak, associate pastor of St. Mary's Parish, was immediately removed once the bishop became aware of the allegation.

Sebesak, 35, became the 12th priest removed in the Belleville Catholic Diocese because of alleged sexual misconduct in three years.

Gregory said the alleged priest approached him personally with the charge in March and asked that Sebesak be questioned about the abuse before any information was taken to the diocesan review board.

The alleged victim reported that Sebesak had sexually abused the minor six years ago before he was ordained a priest. The victim is now an adult, Gregory said.

The diocesan review board studies the charges levied against each priest and makes a recommendation to Gregory.

member Judy White, CHASI receives approximately $88,000 in funding.

That, $33,000 goes to the Youth Services program, $23,000 to subsidized day care, $9,000 for the agency's child care resource and referral program, and $3,000 for the adoption and foster care program.

She said because CHASI is a regional organization, many times it can use the United Way money as matching funds for state or federal grants.

Linda White is a caseworker with CHASI's Youth Services program. Started in the summer of 1993, the program, through a contract with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services and local police agencies, tries to keep families from falling apart.

White said her job is very unpredictable. She is one of four full-time counselors who work in the program, each handling about 15 cases.

The counselors work with youths, aged 11-17, who are runaways or who have been kicked out of their homes by parents.

"If a situation comes up where a runaway refuses to go home or the parents refuse to take the child, we intervene," she said.

The counselors are usually notified by police, and then go to the departments to deal with the immediate situation.

"The first step is to get to the police station and resolve the problems," she said. "Sometimes parents are at the end of their rope."

Among problems dealt with are drug and alcohol abuse, a lack of parenting skills, and anger and child abuse.

After the initial meeting, the counselors work with families for up to six months.

The goal of the child is the most important concern.

"Our ultimate goal is to keep the family together," she said. "We have the chance to preserve families."

For information about the services offered by CHASI, call the Granite City office at 432-8800.

was not heavily recruited and received no scholarship offers. But Greene, who moved to Granite City from Alabama with his family in 1976, decided to enroll at Auburn University in Auburn, Ala.

In 1983, as a senior at Auburn, Greene walked on the football team and earned a spot on one of the strongest Division I programs in the nation. The following year, as a fifth-year senior, Greene became a starter at linebacker and led the team in sacks. The Tigers went on to defeat Michigan in the 1985 Sugar Bowl and finished fourth in the country.

Greene was selected in the fifth round by the Los Angeles Rams in 1985, and he has been in the NFL ever since. After playing eight years for the Rams, Greene signed with the Steelers as an unrestricted free agent in 1993.

In his two years in Pittsburgh, Greene has become one of the most celebrated players in the NFL. Sporting long hair and a free-spirited attitude, the 6-3, 245-pound linebacker is a fan favorite in Pittsburgh.

"I wish I could have played with the Steelers for pretty much my whole career," Greene said. "Then again, if I had stayed with the Rams, I'd be able to play for my home town."

While the Rams will become the St. Louis Rams next fall, Greene remains a Steeler. Last year, he led the league in sacks and was voted to the Pro Bowl for the second time in five years.

Greene played under former Warrior coach Stan Wojcik and assistant Jerry McKeethan at Granite City South. On Friday, McKeethan introduced Greene and noted how the former resident has willed his way into what has become a hugely successful NFL career.

After high school, Greene became an avid weight lifter and conditioned himself for Division I football. On Friday, he talked about how his path to the NFL began in Granite City and what it took to get there.

"Having dreams and making results," Greene said. "I want these kids to know we have something in common. I sat in this audience."

A request for de-annexation or a special use permit to allow duck hunting on the property of Leo Kamadulski.

Kamadulski said that since 1970 he had allowed limited hunting on his property near Illinois 162, and that he did not realize it would be affected when he annexed into the village.

"Safety and noise were the primary concerns of trustees, who referred the matter to the village attorney."

A request for a business license for a used car dealership at 3940 Pontoon Road.

"This is the third attempt by the owners of Beach Auto Sales to obtain a business license for the property," said Greg B. Marti as president of Family Auto Sales Inc.

"Trustees said they would not grant a license until the owners presented a plan on how cars would be parked on the lot, and an occupancy permit was obtained."

DeCamp, social services; Nancy Freund, Kishman, youth and family; Marjorie R. Smith, education; Dolores B. Malcolm, literacy; Gloria W. White, community betterment; Eileen C. Fraenkel, volunteer service; and Blanche M. Touhill, civic responsibility.

Trial

According to U.S. District Judge Paul Riley, the jury spent all Thursday making its decision.

During testimony, federal agents said they discovered about 700 pounds of marijuana in six 55-gallon drums at Central Freight Lines in Pharr, Texas, in October.

Federal agents allowed the drums to be delivered to D and D Trailer Rental, 1000 West Chain of Rocks in Granite City, on Nov. 1. Whittner allegedly paid the freight on the barrels. The next day, Whittner loaded the barrels in a pickup truck and delivered it to Furschloger and Stoll home.

During a search of the home, Drug Enforcement Administration agents discovered "an obvious packaging plant for marijuana" including scales and a circular saw covered with marijuana residue. Agents also confiscated nine firearms and more than $18,000 in cash.

Riley said that while there was a "substantial amount of testimony" about Turnbough's guilt, there was no evidence presented that Riley had knowledge about the marijuana, and that knowledge is required for a conviction.

Turnbough's sentencing is scheduled for July 28. Riley said Turnbough is facing a "major sentence."

However, a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling has created questions about one of the charges.

Riley said the recent decision to strike down the federal law regulating firearms within 1,000 feet of a school brings the similar drug law into question.

The court ruled that the federal government did not have jurisdiction to go into such a law. Instead, that is a state matter.

Riley said he would have to look at the decision to decide if it applies to drug cases.

Food

ing food to about 140 families.

My main concern is the elderly and handicapped residents that really depend on commodities to stretch their food budgets," she said.

She was especially worried because some of them have no way to get to food pantries, which are expected fill much of the need.

As the distribution program ends, Madison County EMA is reorganizing its soup kitchen pantry program to help in emergency situations. Fifteen area agencies participate in the program.

Quigley said other organizations wishing to join the program would probably be accepted if they met the criteria.

Diabetes class being offered at hospital

Are you a diabetic?

"You're not alone," said Kathy Haarmann, a certified diabetes educator. "There is no cure for diabetes, but there is a lot of information available that can help diabetics lead full lives and avoid further complications."

Haarmann, the patient education coordinator at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will be part of the teaching team in a free "Take Charge of Your Diabetes" class offered at SEMC.

The class will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, at the Collinsville Health Center, 800 St. Louis Road, Collinsville.

The class will include a general overview of diabetes, its symptoms, diabetes management, exercise, testing and complications of the condition.

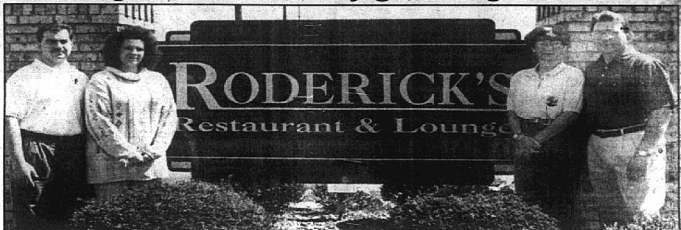

A registered dietitian will present nutrition information related to diabetes, including information on sweeteners, fiber, label reading and fast foods. A pharmacist will speak on medications, including insulin and oral agents.

Diabetes is the number one cause of new blindness and the third leading cause of death by disease in this country. You owe it to yourself to find out all you can.

The class is free, but space is limited. Preregistration is required. For more information or to preregister, call the SEMC Education Resources Department at 788-3201.

Working to make an already good thing even better.

2082 VADALABENE DR., MARYVILLE
When Tony and Joan Queroli sold Roderick's in 1993, it closed the book on their restaurant career but the sale began a new chapter for the Roderick family.

But instead of trying to change the Roderick's reputation for fine Italian food, the family is working to make an already good thing even better.

One of the most recent changes has been to give the restaurant at 2082 Vadalabene Drive a name that only they can: Roderick's. Roderick's is located one-quarter mile east of Illinois 159.

The restaurant was purchased by Jon and Michelle Roderick in November 1993 as a subsidiary of Jerry's Cafeteria and Catering, Inc.

Jon Roderick, the son of Jerry and Coleen Roderick, owners of Jerry's Cafeteria in downtown Granite City, is keeping alive the family restaurant tradition.

That tradition was started by Jon Roderick's grandparents, Bill and Theresa Roderick, who opened Roderick's Tavern in Granite City in 1945.

The "family recipe" fried chicken, available as an all-you-can-eat special on Sundays is one of the many menu additions the Rodericks have made.

Hamburgers are available with a selection of gourmet toppings. Steak, chicken, seafood and a wide variety of homemade pastas are available, meals complemented by soup and salad.

But fine dining doesn't have to be expensive. Daily luncheon specials that include a pasta with salad or soup are just $5. Pasta dinners start at just $6.95.

And diners can top off the perfect meal with a piece of pie or one of

FORMERLY TONY'S OF MARYVILLE

Roderick's other tempting desserts, all homemade.

There's something for every member of the family with a children's menu to order from. "Senior portions" are also available.

While the quality of the food is the key element in the dining experience, it isn't the only one. A pleasant atmosphere adds to the diner's visit. There is plenty of parking on a lighted lot and the restaurant is handicapped accessible.

And if dinner for a group is in order, Roderick's also offers a full-service banquet facility on its lower level. It can seat up to 80 people.

Hours at Roderick's are: 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday and Tuesday through Thursday; 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday; and 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday. It is closed Monday.

Carry-outs are available. The telephone number is 288-3236.

How to be successful with Lawn Seeding

from the experts at

FRANK'S®

Spring's arrival brings out many things, most of them of the pleasant variety. Unfortunately, this glorious time of year brings about frustration for many gardeners. The ones who will try to start a brand new lawn from seed, using the old-fashioned method.

Perhaps you've attempted seeding before and met with failure. If so, you're definitely not alone. The good news is that it doesn't have to be that way any longer. Thanks to Frank's, there's now a better, virtually trouble-free way to achieve a beautiful lawn by seeding.

What's the secret? It's no secret at all. It's called Penkote®. And it's on all Frank's grass seed. It's what separates ordinary grass seed from quality. It can mean the difference between failure and success.

Penkote is a special green coating of fungicide and growth hormones that ensure a faster start for new seeds, stronger grass plants and deep root growth. Plus, since it doesn't appear as a food source to birds, it goes unnoticed by them. If they're not attracted to your seed, they'll look elsewhere.

If all this sounds good and you'd like to give seeding a try, congratulations on a wise choice. The next thing you'll need to know is what type of seed is best for you. Frank's carries a complete line of quality seed with names like "Sun and Shade," "Sunny" and "Shady" to help you choose the right seed for your growing conditions. Each box or bag provides all the information you'll need about that particular seed.

Choosing the proper seed allows you to have the type of lawn you want with a minimum of maintenance.

Perennial ryegrasses and tall fescues are good for heavy traffic and play areas. Fine fescues like creeping red are great for shady areas. Bluegrass lawns require slightly more care, but will reward you with a tremendous lawn. So before you buy seed, decide what type of lawn you want.

Preparation of the seeding site is of utmost importance. Here's how to do it:
1. Test the soil with a test kit from Frank's.
2. If the area already has some vegetation, use a non-selective weed control to eliminate it. When using this type of product, pay close attention to the required waiting time between use of the product and seeding.

3. After the time prescribed, mow the dead lawn area very close and bag the clippings.
4. Work a 2-inch layer of organic material such as peat moss, compost or cow manure, into the soil, loosening the soil 6 to 8 inches deep.
5. Apply any other amendments the soil test indicates you need.
6. Level the soil with a rake and remove stones or any debris.
7. Rake Frank's Seed Starter fertilizer into the soil.

Steps for seeding
1. Sow seed with a drop or hand-held spreader, following the rate on the package.
2. Lightly rake the seeds into the top 1/4 inch of soil.
3. Cover the seeded area with a thin layer of straw or hay to hold seed in place and keep the soil moist.
4. Lightly rake the newly seeded area to help secure seeds in soil, or gently rake new seeds no more than 1/4 inch into loose soil.
5. Keep the area moist until seeds have sprouted. This also helps keep the straw or hay in place instead of blowing all over the neighborhood. As roots become established, gradually decrease the frequency of watering to encourage deep root growth.
6. Once the grass has grown to a height of about 3 inches, it's safe to cut it, but don't take off more than an inch. Be sure the mower blade is sharp. A dull blade can rip young seedlings right out of the ground.

'Arsenic and Old Lace' showing at Miner's

The Collinsville Area Theatrical Society is presenting "Arsenic and Old Lace" this weekend and May 5 and 6 at the Miner's Theatre, 304 W. Main St., in Collinsville. The classic, three-act comedy centers around two elderly aunts, Abby (Cathryn Lucido of Collinsville) and Martha Brewster (Suzanne Boyle of Belleville), who have a penchant for taking in elderly borders, then doing them in with poisoned elderberry wine. The play is set in the 1940s in their Brooklyn home.

Complicating the often-hilarious production are the aunts' nephews, a confused drama critic, Mortimer (Dennis Saldana of Fairview Heights), whose discovery of a body has him teetering on the brink of insanity, and his already crazy brother Teddy (Mike Crockett of Red Bud), who thinks he is President Teddy Roosevelt. Adding dark humor to the mix-up is the unexpected arrival of Jonathan Brewster (Jim Haverstick of Belleville), the long-lost, but hardly missed, sinister brother of Mortimer and Teddy. Tagging along with Jonathan is his partner in crime, amateur plastic surgeon, Dr. Herman Einstein (Todd Ward of Collinsville). Perplexed by Mortimer's sudden inattention is his fiancée, Elaine (Karen Morris of O'Fallon), the next-door minister's daughter. Owen Humphrey of Granite City portrays her father, Dr. Harper, and also is cast as the director of the local funny farm, Mr. Witherspoon. Thrown into the mayhem is one of Brooklyn's finest, Officer O'Hara (Steven Friedrich of Troy), a budding writer who finds Mortimer a "captive" audience. Also appearing are Angela Queen of Collinsville as Miss Gibbs, Michael Lucido of Belleville as Officer Klein and Justin Butts of Fairview Heights as Officer Brophy. Mandy Gasprich of Fairview Heights understudies as Elaine. "Arsenic and Old Lace" is directed by Shelly Hayden of Collinsville, who is president of the Collinsville Area Theatrical Society. It is the society's third production. The curtain rises at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 29, and May 5-6. A 2 p.m. Sunday matinee is set for April 30. Tickets are $6 with a one-dollar discount for seniors and students. Reservations can be made by calling 345-2960. Tickets also will be available at the door.

'Rob Roy' brings back brawling time

A ghostly fog cloaks the emerald green of the Scottish Highlands, and from its wispy tendrils a clan of determined men storms through. They are after a grungy horde of cattle rustlers. The clan's leader, Robert Roy MacGregor, approaches the thieves alone and makes a simple statement: Give back the cattle and no harm will befall them. But these are ignorant and desperate people. The clan's leader makes the fatal mistake of going up against Rob Roy.

One bad guy down and several more scheming, nasty, ugly bad guys to go. Michael Caton-Jones' "Rob Roy," the sides are clearly drawn: good and honorable, bad and dishonest. And like an old-fashioned movie, you cheer on the good guys and applaud the demise of evil.

"Rob Roy" is the kind of sweeping, majestic movie-making that a real-life hero that captured the imagination in the 1960s and early '70s. And if Charlton Heston were young enough, he surely would have starred.

But the United Artists Pictures' release stars Liam Neeson as the Scottish legend, and the kill-clad action is just great. Neeson lends a brooding honor to the role and displays brute strength and cunning tempered by his passions.

There's also much tenderness and lusty chemistry between Neeson and co-star Jessica Lange, who portrays Rob's wife, Mary.

Rob and Mary hold together the MacGregor clan in the early 1700s, as the greedy Brits move in to rape the land and its people. He arranges a loan from the despotic Marquis of Montrose (John Hurt) so the clan can get through the winter. The agreement calls for a signed document that will allow the MacGregors to charge their goods.

But the Marquis' evil henchman Archie Cunningham (Tim Roth) and his villainous agent Killrean arrange for Rob's friend Alan (Eric Stoltz) to pick up 1,000 pounds in cash instead. Archie bawls back the unsuspecting Alan as he rides through the forest, kills him and steals the money. Rob becomes an outlaw as the clan escalates actions against the Marquis and his property, and when Killrean is kidnapped and executed by the MacGregors, the Marquis sends Archie to capture Rob: He wants him broken, but alive.

The action climaxes in an extremely exciting and vivid escape, culminating in an inventive and well-staged sword fight between Archie and Rob. Tim Roth absolutely steals the movie. Without him, it's simply another richly rewarding visual study, with him, "Rob Roy" soars.

As Archie, Roth is deliciously fey and so totally warped that he has carved an unforgettable film character. He also excels as a swordsman and gives Archie a foppish style that will have you howling through the movie.

Where Archie is classically trained with the sword, Rob is all insect and fights from the gut. It makes for a sizzling match. Lange adds a certain strength and integrity to Mary, and a natural warmth that seems to cheer the chilly landscape.

Stoltz is a pleasant surprise, putting in a polished but effective turn as the loyal clansman. The imperious Hurt is Scottish actor Brian Cox makes a great smarmy Killrean.

The real star of "Rob Roy," though, is the landscape. The photography of the Scottish Highlands is breathtaking and captures a serene and untouched beauty that's hard to find. Karl Walter Lindenberg is to be commended.

Caton-Jones' direction, which slows at times, also is worthy, as is the editing by Peter Honess. Together, they make a formidable filmmaking team.

Wal-Mart scholarship announced

James Brooks, store manager of the Granite City Wal-Mart, recently announced the selection of Traci Mell of Granite City as the 1995 recipient of the $1,000 Wal-Mart Foundation Community scholarship.

The scholarship is awarded each spring by Wal-Mart to an area college- or university-bound high school senior and is payable over a one-year period.

Mell, a senior at Granite City High School, plans to attend Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo., this fall.

In making the announcement, Brooks said, "It is with great pleasure that we announce Traci Mell as the winner of this year's scholarship. It was a difficult decision for our local judges who had to select from many outstanding students."

Brooks said the scholarship criteria is based primarily on academic performance, involvement in the school and community and financial need.

CHIROPRACTIC SERVICES

Study validates chiropractic treatment of low back pain

A landmark federal study validating spinal manipulation as an effective, drug-free initial treatment for acute low back problems in adults should "throw open the doors of managed health care plans to chiropractors," according to the head of the world's largest organization of chiropractors.

Dr. Lowry Morton, chairman of the board of the American Chiropractic Association (ACA), added that if the guidelines in the just-released federal study on low back pain are followed, the "end result will be significant savings to the nation's overall health care system."

"The policy implications are clear," Morton said. "Managed care plans should include chiropractic spinal manipulation and, where feasible, allow direct access to doctors of chiropractic."

Currently, many managed health care plans do not include chiropractic services, or force patients to first visit a "medical gatekeeper" prior to obtaining chiropractic treatment.

The new study, conducted by the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research (AHCPR) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, concludes that spinal manipulation is a recommended and effective form of initial treatment for acute low back problems in adults — the most common health complaint experienced by working Americans today, and a condition which costs the economy at least $50 billion a year in lost wages and productivity.

"This study validates a form of treatment doctors of chiropractic have been performing for nearly a century," said Morton. "Spinal manipulation is effective; it gets low back patients on their feet and back to work faster than any other form of care. That's why it would be a poor decision for managed care plans not to allow enrollees direct access to doctors of chiropractic, who are uniquely trained and extensively experienced in providing spinal manipulation."

According to a 1994 Harris poll, patients are more satisfied with chiropractic treatment for back problems than with any other form of care.

"With AHCPR's recognition that spinal manipulation provides effective relief from low back discomfort, however, the ACA is concerned that unlicensed or unqualified persons might be led to believe that they can use it with the same effectiveness as chiropractors," Morton warned.

"Spinal manipulation is as much an art as it is a science, and doctors of chiropractic are the experts at this unique treatment."

The 23-member AHCPR panel concluded, among other things, that:

- spinal manipulation is a recommended treatment for acute low back problems in adults;
- conservative treatment such as manipulation should be pursued, in most cases, before surgical interventions are considered;
- prescription drugs such as oral steroids, antidepressant medications and colchicine are not recommended for acute low back problems.

"For the ACA and the chiropractic profession," Morton said, "these findings come as no surprise. In fact, they substantiate other, recently-released findings on chiropractic and spinal manipulation."

Morton cited a recent study by the RAND Corporation which determined spinal manipulation was an appropriate treatment for acute low back pain, and reported from its analysis that 94 percent of all manipulations are performed by doctors of chiropractic.

And in 1993, a study funded by the Ontario Ministry of Health reported that chiropractic manipulation was the most cost effective and efficacious care for low back pain.

Through that study, the Ontario Ministry of Health concluded there should be a "shift in policy to encourage and prefer chiropractic services for most patients with low back pain," and chiropractic should be "fully insured (and) fully integrated" into the Ontario health care system.

According to health care experts, as many as 80 percent of Americans will suffer from back pain at some point in their lives, back symptoms are the most common cause of disability for Americans under age 45, and 20 percent of all American military medical discharges are due to low back pain.

"Back problems are widespread," Morton said, "and this new guideline may now explain why so many Americans have themselves sought out the services of chiropractors."

"Doctors of chiropractic nationwide are ready and willing to work in concert with other health professionals to provide the best possible care for patients with low back pain. After all, the well-being of the patient is our most important concern. And with spinal manipulation offering the most effective drug-free, non-surgical relief for adult low back pain, the experts in spinal manipulation — doctors of chiropractic — should be looked to for treatment."

Logan teacher expands minority awareness

One in 20 Americans will visit a chiropractor during the course of a year. Most chiropractic practices, however, do not attract many black patients, and few African-Americans have become chiropractors.

Dr. Doris Bell, Director of Multi-Cultural Affairs at Logan College of Chiropractic in Chesterfield, wants African-Americans and other minorities to become better acquainted with chiropractic.

A resident of Hazelwood, Dr. Bell became interested in chiropractic when her husband, who was injured in a car accident, visited a chiropractor.

Enrolled in business courses at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, she began taking science courses instead, planning to become a chiropractic student.

Dr. Bell graduated from Logan College in 1977, and then practiced chiropractic in University City. She joined the Logan faculty in 1981, directing a College clinic which serves Logan students and their families. She held that position until she became Logan's Director of Multi-Cultural Affairs in 1992.

Dr. Bell's colleagues have responded well to her as an African-American and as a woman, she said. "I have experienced no problems with my peers. Also, my practice in University City was racially mixed, and the response from my patients was very positive."

Hoping to expand knowledge of her profession within the community, Dr. Bell speaks to young people on motivational issues, and also discusses chiropractic. She is active in a group affiliated with the Mathews-Dickey Boys Club, and she plans to speak to adult groups about the chiropractic profession as well.

Dr. Doris Bell, center, advises minority and international students at Logan College.

In addition, Dr. Bell has arranged for the St. Louis Public Schools Career Education Office to bring groups of students to visit the Logan campus, where they attend presentations in Logan's anatomy, prosection amphitheatre, take campus tours and learn about chiropractic.

Dr. Bell also is Logan College's liaison with Pro Sports Counseling, a drug-awareness organization based in St. Louis and headed by former pro basketball player Art Williams. Pro Sports Counseling brings groups of high school students to Logan College several times each year. In addition to learning about chiropractic, the Pro Sports Counseling groups attend drug awareness programs, presented by practicing chiropractors and other adults.

Recently, Dr. Bell joined the "Patrollers" program of the St. Louis Public Schools. The program serves students at St. Louis city and county schools, introducing the students to professionals from many fields. Dr. Bell will make a total of four visits to ninth graders at McCluer High School in Pleasanton, where she helps lead discussions of values, decision-making and career planning.

Dr. Bell also advises minority and international students at Logan and presents cultural awareness workshops for Logan employees. She is continuing the college's outreach to historically black colleges and universities, which began in 1990. Logan's overall minority enrollment has reached about six percent, partly as a result of such outreach.

About 10 percent of Logan's 800 students are from foreign countries. Many of these students are from Canada, and so do not experience a great difference in culture or environment when they enroll at Logan.

However, students from countries in Europe, Asia and Africa also are enrolled at Logan. Dr. Bell advises these students as they become accustomed to the changes they face in their environment.

At the national level, Dr. Bell is active in the National Association of Medical Minority Educators and in the American Black Chiropractors Association. In the February 1995 issue of Essence magazine, she was quoted in an article discussing the role of exercise in the prevention of back pain.

Chiropractic facts

- If the AHCPR guideline is followed by medical gatekeepers, HMOs and other managed care groups, the end result will be significant savings to the overall health care system, because patients will have direct access to chiropractic care.
- The RAND Corporation reported from its analysis of literature on manipulation that 94 percent of all manipulation services are performed by doctors of chiropractic.
- According to the latest Gallup Poll conducted for the ACA, over 18 million Americans have sought chiropractic care. Ninety percent of those chiropractic users considered their treatment effective, 80 percent were satisfied with the services received and 73 percent felt that most or all of their care expectations were met.

- In a 1993 study, the Ontario Ministry of Health determined there should be a "shift in policy to encourage and prefer chiropractic services for most patients with low back pain," and chiropractic should be "fully insured (and) fully integrated."
- It went on to state that chiropractors should be added to all hospital staffs and that low back pain patients currently under the care of medical physicians should be transferred to chiropractic physicians for evaluation and treatment.
- The mean compensation costs paid out by the Utah Workers' Compensation Board for patients treated by doctors of chiropractic was only 10 percent of that paid out for patients treated by other physicians. (Journal of Occupational Medicine, 1991.)

If your car is cracked up, what about your body?

After an auto accident, you automatically bring your car in for repairs, but what about your body? Chances are, if your car was damaged, so were you.

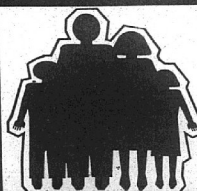

Auto accidents frequently cause whiplash, back and neck injuries. A chiropractic examination will identify any injuries you may have sustained. In many cases, through chiropractic treatment, unnecessary pain — even surgery — can be avoided.

If you've been in an auto accident and are hurting, we urge you to give us a call and make an appointment for an initial exam. Our patient list includes many people who have found relief through the natural, chiropractic approach to health care. We can help you, too.

Horoscope

Sunday, April 30
You'd be surprised how easy it is to relax today, especially if you can get outdoors — lawn chores and weeding are easy, as is just lying around in the spring air. Loving relationships are nurtured by tender, sensual gestures, such as gifts of flowers, a special touch of perfume or remembering to fix someone's favorite dish for no special reason at all.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
The feeling of being organized and in control of finances is a special pleasure. The week ahead couldn't be better for investigating savings plans, digging into job searches and writing a resume.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Continue to enjoy the simple pleasures — concentrate on fulfilling the wishes of those older or infirm and you'll be truly rewarded. Next week, complete projects on your own.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
Even the toughest problems make sense once you've had a chance to mull them over quietly — insight into the deeper motives and needs of people near you helps you make the right moves.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
Strong supporters see you toward the goals you hold dearest. Be ready to give a good friend the kind of support that you devote daily to your family. Recognition and even fame draw near.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
A loving parent sets a good example for the whole family. Leadership is the ticket in the days ahead — whatever role you play, remember that those around are learning from watching you.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (April 30)
Much that you have worked hard for will come at last in the year ahead — you can't go wrong when making first impressions in May. Initiate financial and business moves in June, and collect more than you expected in August! Through September, romance and luck run neck and neck for the top spot — by December, you may be rich and married to your true love.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Explore ideas that could pan out into a larger future. Next week you may discover that a skill you already possess could lead to great things in a world that is coming alive!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
It's perfect weather for reconciliations and the healing of long-term emotional wounds. Release old fears and clear away physical symptoms, too, with today's therapeutic insights.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
Extra-special efforts with your mate or friends will be rewarded with future loyalty, as you are able to see the true feelings beneath the behavior of a loved one. Tonight, get extra rest.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Your attitude of willingness to help makes a big difference in relationships with neighbors as well as your family. Let loved ones air their grievances — you can an effort to listen.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Romance is exciting, and children are an inspiration. Enjoy using "creativity" around your home to design flower beds or create a meal to remember. Future gain may come from hobbies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Use your own special touch of genius to solve a family or household problem — then, give yourself a chance to enjoy the comforts of your own hearth. Meditation and solitude are helpful.

ATTENTION METROLINK CUSTOMERS!

Beginning on or about April 1, 1995, the City of St. Louis will begin removal of the upper road deck of the Eads Bridge. MetroLink service after 7 p.m. each night will operate every 15 minutes until 11 p.m. and then every 30 minutes until the end of regular service. Customers will not experience any trip delays.

MetroLink will operate on a single track across the Eads Bridge after 7 p.m. between the Laclede's Landing Station and the 5th & Missouri Station. The East Riverfront Station will operate from one platform after 7 p.m., clearly designated by signs. This work should continue for approximately 100 days. During the day both tracks will be in operation.

New MetroLink schedules, effective March 20, are available at information kiosks in all stations. Thank you for your patience during this preparation for a new vehicular road deck.

Buying a used car shouldn't make you feel that way.

We've always thought the used car business could use a bit of a tune-up. So Saturn retailers are now selling Certified Used cars. Inspected and warranted used Saturns, sold with the same informative, no-pressure attitude as our new ones. Along with other used cars that go through the same kind of inspection as every Certified Saturn. Think of it as a used car experience that'll make you feel brand-new.
